(c) whether it has been decided to undertake a new survey in regard to the orginating points of other Himalayan rivers on the lines of Gangotri; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI VINCENT PALA) : (a) and (b) Geological Survey of India (GSI) has informed that GSI is not carrying out any work on Gangotri since 1996. GSI has, however, observed that recent reports have shown that the Gangotri glacier has been melting at satisfactory level. Further, National Institute of Hydrology has carried out research studies and the analysis of flow data observed by the institute for the period from the year 2000 to 2008 does not indicate any definite trend.

(c) GSI has informed that has been decided to undertake new surveys in regard to originating points of other Himalayan rivers.

(d) Does not arise.
